Lincart Gallery: Bob Van Breda - Widgets; Michael S. Moore - Landscape Paintings.

Comment: Michael S. Moore paints up a tall wall of diminutive oblong desert watercolors as well as larger desert paintings on canvas, all looking sparsely similar until you close in. Suddenly there's plenty to compare, contrast, and dissect-- perspective, time of day, temperature, weather conditions, and the like. For those of you who already have a desert but no art to put in it, Bob Van Breda deftly mocks up a series of "pencil sculptures," perfect for your desktop, or if you want one for your desert (or other open space), he'll reproduce it for you king size. The desktop versions run $200-$800. Not a bad deal.
